

NEXUS™ - Chamber Solutions

NEXUS™ is a unique patented twin wall access chamber system which comprises of high quality polypropylene modules which are assembled into ring sections prior to delivery. The system offers a raising ring and duct entry ring sections as detailed.

Each ring comprises male and female 'quick-click' connections enabling each to be quickly stacked in an array of arrangements thus allowing the positioning of duct entry sections to accommodate varying depths of ducting. For ducts exceeding the standard 64mm or 114mm diameter entry points, the raising ring sections can simply be drilled on site to accommodate all sizes of duct. Please request a copy of the technical guide for recommended core drilling.
